

the skies are already crowded. all we need to do is have everyone speaking on cell phones. how will the flight attendants manage the plane? this is a recipe for disaster. do the right thing and keep the cell phone on the ground. no one needs more unrest in the skies. are we going to give the terrorists an opportunity to speak w/ each other from plane to plane? can you imagine what would or could have happened on 911? wasn't that bad enough?
